

Table of contents

Preface	7
Chapter 1. Entrepreneurial versus traditional marketing	11
1.1 Marketing logic	12
1.2 Customer value perspective	13
1.3 Market segment perspective	16
1.4 Marketing process perspective	19
1.5 Financial perspective	20
Chapter 2. Building value: from lead users to a mainstream market	21
2.1 Seeds and needs: matching innovative ideas with customer needs and jobs	21
2.2 It is all about knowing people's reference frameworks	25
2.3 It is all about targeting the right lead users and then making adjacent moves	27
Chapter 3. Marketing resource leveraging as an entrepreneur	41
3.1 It is all about energy instead of money	41
3.2 It is all about using the right keywords	43
3.3 It is all about partnerships only if they add value	46
3.4 In the end it is all about finding value for the customer and the company: where will the money be?	48
Chapter 4. The pillars of an entrepreneurial marketing plan	51
4.1 Checklist	51
4.2 You wanna know my entrepreneurial story?	53
4.3 A few concluding remarks in words and pictures	56
References	59
Index (with keywords, companies and products)	67