Contents

Preface  7

ETHICS AND PHILOSOPHY

Chapter I  Accountability for Reasonable Priority Setting  11
  NORMAN DANIELS and JAMES SABIN

Chapter II  Just Caring: In Defense of the Role of Democratic Deliberation in Health Care Rationing and Priority-setting  25
  LEONARD M. FLECK

Chapter III  Rationing and the Disabled: Several Proposals  47
  FRANCES M. KAMM

Chapter IV  What do theories of social justice have to say about health care rationing? Well-being, sufficiency and explicit age-rationing  65
  CARINA FOURIE

Chapter V  Organ Procurement and Allocation: Tragic Choices and Utilitarian Redefinitions of Death  87
  JEAN-MARC PIRET

Chapter VI  Reproducing Justice: Is There a Good Justification for Equal Access to Fertility Care?  111
  DANIEL SPERLING

LAW

Chapter VII  NICE and the problem of ‘postcode prescribing’ in the English National Health Service  131
  KEITH SYRETT

Chapter VIII  Re-balancing the Rationing Debate – Tackling the Tensions between Individual and Community Rights  153
  CHRISTOPHER NEWDICK

Chapter IX  Setting Limits on Health Care: Challenges in and out of the Courtroom in Canada and Down-under  171
  COLLEEN M. FLOOD and INSIYA ESSAJEE
Chapter X  The special moral status of health care.
On market forces, equal treatment, and having a say
MARTIN BUIJSEN

Chapter XI  Rationing Health Care: an economic perspective
ALAN MAYNARD AND KAREN BLOOR

Chapter XII  Rationing Health Care: Balancing equity and efficiency
WERNER B.F. BROUWER AND FRANS F.H. RUTTEN

Contributors  243
Index  247

ECONOMICS