

International Journal of Child and Family Welfare

2016, 17 (1/2)

Introduction

Conversational contexts: 3

Investigating the dynamics of relationships between clients and professionals in child welfare

Annemiek T. Harder, Christopher J. Hall & Carolus H.C.J. van Nijnatten

Conversations between youth and family treatment parents

Getting, receiving and holding attention: 10

How adolescents' telling initiatives work out in interaction with professional parents in family homes

Ellen Schep, Tom Koole & Martine Noordegraaf

Pedagogical anamnesis: How professional parents collect information from adolescents through conversation 27

Carolus H.C.J. van Nijnatten & Martine Noordegraaf

Care professionals' skills in interactions with youth

Can we reliably measure social work communication skills? 47

Development of a scale to measure child and family social work direct practice

Charlotte E. Whittaker, Donald Forrester, Michael Killian & Rebecca K. Jones

Look who's talking: A Motivational Interviewing based observation study of one-on-one conversations 64

between residential care workers and adolescents

Annika Eenshuistra, Annemiek T. Harder, Neeltje L. van Zonneveld & Erik J. Knorth

Interactions between parents and care professionals

Managing arguments in social work encounters 85

Tessa Verhallen, Christopher J. Hall, Stef Slembrouck & Steve Kirkwood

The problem of participation in child protection conferences: 105

An interactional analysis

Juliet Koprowska